

Green Gurus

Helping you reach your sustainable potential

In-house sustainability experts

Proper waste management is just one piece of the puzzle of truly sustainable operations, and having the right bins in your building won't help if people are not using them correctly or are not educated about the urgency of sustainable practice. In order for sustainable practice to take root, the right infrastructure needs to be accompanied by the right knowledge; it's just as important that people know how and why these new systems work as it is that the new systems are implemented.

To tackle this issue, Bywaters offers the services of our team of Green Gurus. Our Gurus are in-house sustainability executives, on-hand to provide you with expert advice and guidance in the areas in environmental responsibility and green waste management and to transform your performance using our industry-proven Green Guru Strategy.

The Green Guru Strategy

In order to effect the biggest possible positive change within your organisation, Green Gurus tackle sustainability issues in three main areas:

Audits - By conducting detailed investigations of your building, our Gurus can analyse your current performance versus your recycling potential in order to identify areas for improvement. These can include installing additional waste streams, relocating bins throughout the building, and proposing innovations and equipment to improve performance.

Training - A core service our Gurus offer is training building staff to properly use the systems we implement. This includes bespoke training for portering, cleaning and building management teams, as well as guidance on correct segregation and wider sustainability issues.

Awareness Events - The Green Gurus also run events, such as Waste Awareness Days, Beach Cleans, and other engagement opportunities in order to get your staff and the wider public invested in environmental issues in fun and informative ways.

Our Green Guru strategy has been proven, time and again, to help our clients to achieve their sustainability goals and exceed their targets. With Bywaters' help, you will be able to do the same.
